Prix Versailles 2022: Announcement of World Selections

The Secretariat has revealed the six airports, six university campuses, six passenger stations and six major sports facilities around the world that are in the running for the Prix Versailles 2022.

In addition to the World Selections, the continental laureates (world finalists) for the Shops & Stores, Shopping Malls, Hotels and Restaurants categories will soon be released.

Like each year, the World Judges Panel will be making their choices from amongst these top projects, based on the criteria of innovation, creativity, reflection of local heritage and ecological efficiency.

The World Titles Announcement will take place at UNESCO Headquarters in Paris, France, in late November or early December 2022.

The 2022 edition of the Prix Versailles will reiterate the importance of sustainable development that considers every aspect of the human environment.

Dialogue and interconnections between those different aspects – from ecology to social relations to culture – are particularly necessary given the present state of affairs.

The search for “intelligent sustainability”, including the cultural dimension, helps the international community to set a new course that will be valid for the decades to come.
